Hi, I'm Ariana, a multimedia industrial and graphic designer and robotic data operations specialist.

Nominated for the Steve Jobs Fellowship, 2024

EXPERIENCE

Physical Intelligence Robot Operator — Aug 2025 – Present

Generalist robot teleoperator, performing tasks ranging from diverse realistic data collection, to specialized precision tasks. Day to day training includes evaluating and fine tuning LLM, VLA, HL and RL models. Responsible for communicating hardware/software errors as they arise, maintaining operability across tasking stations, troubleshooting GUI, liaising between engineering and operations, as well as creative task management and execution.

Arcade.ai / Heretic Ventures QA Tester — Nov 2024 – Jan 2026

Tested the website and AI tools, using workflow charting and journaling to track results and highlight concerning errors. Mapped functional failures, assessed ease of access, and examined layout engagement potential.

California College of the Arts — Jan 2024 – May 2024
Teaching Assistant

TA for an undergraduate Industrial Design validations course taught by Professor Corey Jones. Supported students through presentation feedback, 1-on-1 meetings, and help outside class during a semester-long Design Challenge hosted by Lucid Motors in collaboration with Fusion360.

Bonhams Auctioneers — Jul 2023 – Present
Preview and Operations Assistant

Installed and dismantled preview exhibitions for private sales and catalogue events. Managed on-site inventory of high-value items, maintained client services and relations including at public events such as The Quail at Carmel Car Week, and performed off-site pick-ups and condition documentation, as well as assessments of validity.
